Construction of biosynthetic pathways of neotheobromine and isonoteheobromine, two major alkaloids with multiple biological activities in Scoparia dulcis, in Escherichia coli. Biosynthesis of neotheobromine and isonoteheobromine, two major alkaloids with multiple biological activities, in Scoparia dulcis, a Dioscorea-type species, was constructed in Escherichia coli. Authentic biosynthesis of neotheobromine (1) and isonoteheobromine (2) with carbon chain lengths of 11 and 11-13, respectively, was achieved by introducing the genes that encode the enzymes involved in the phenylpropanoid metabolic pathway into E. coli. In this study, for the first time, the biosynthetic pathway of 2 and the partial route to 1 have been elucidated, and the effects of the genes involved on the alkaloid biosynthesis were elucidated.

1. Field of the Invention The present invention relates generally to data processing systems, and more specifically to a method and apparatus for executing in a data processing system one or more commands from a high level language and converting the command to a format that is suitable for execution by a particular operating system. 2. Related Art In a conventional data processing system, a hardware kernel is responsible for interfacing with and controlling the input/output devices (I/O) of the data processing system. Typically, the data processing system includes a high level language ( 1cb139a0ed
