Fifa 22 Cracked Version introduces a suite of on-ball intelligence systems, which work alongside the "True Player Motion" subsystem. Players can control their on-ball actions including interception, long pass, finish, dribble, etc. AI-controlled teammates are aware when a player uses their skills by evaluating the player's performance against specific opponent strategies (e.g. pace and space) and changing their behaviour accordingly. "True Player Motion" enables players to maintain ball control in the face of pressure. Players receive a new "Guiding Line" for each technique and are given specific instructions about where they should control and where they should move the ball. Every player has a new rating of precision, skill and intelligence, as well as new contextual reactions to fatigue and injuries. "Focus" is a new system which allows players to use their "evolved" on-ball techniques more effectively. It monitors when a player is under pressure and compensates so they can use the skill most appropriate to their situation. "Tackle" is also a key feature of Fifa 22 Crack For Windows. Players can now perform perfect "pressing" tackles by scanning for specific body markers. Players can perform a "chop" tackle or an "equalize" tackle. The former forces the ball carrier to remain stationary, which provides the player attacking the ball with more space to make an accurate pass. The latter has the ball carrier "steal the ball" from the defending team. Tactical ideas are presented via a new principle called "Progression." This informs players of the correct way to play the ball under pressure, so the individual is able to make a decision about whether to take the shot, lay it off or cut it back. Additionally, the player can run into space, use a "short ball" or a "long ball" and choose to play one-touch or two-touch. FIFA 22 has been updated with a new "Track Data" system, which allows players to improve their on-field performance by targeting specific game situations. Players can target top-level situations or dive into situations using the new Insight Training System. The latter is a customised "breakthrough" training workout session which provides a tailored training environment for players to practice specific situations. For example, players can use Insight Training to develop the ability to score a goal in a low-
