gandirlancocarelli says: Yeah, But to be honest, I would rather have that option to hide the weapons with the player since it's not a ESRB Mature Rating tool. At least we can get a Title for these weapons or something like that.

gandirlancocarelli says: And since the game is not out yet, there's still time to do this. As the game is really great and it can be a really nice DLC/Add On if they did a DLC together with all the weapons, weapons, weapons, weapons, variants, etc. As it sounds a bit confusing, I would suggest to wait another 2-3 months before the game is out.

ThomasBosch says: I would love this for you, and it wouldn't be a problem for me to pay for a content pack. However, I'm not sure if it's really going to happen because these guys seem to have an independent contract with Bethesda. I don't think that's the issue. More likely is the fact that it is DLC for Fallout 4, and the next project is New Vegas 2.

tomvw says: @ThomasBosch, I wouldn't be so sure of that, if the New Vegas 2 - Project was a Bethesda Own thing we could have tons of add-ons for that and all those add-ons would be licensed for use in Fallout 4.

noba says: Probably. But that means that any New Vegas 2 add-ons will have to go through Bethesda first. That being said, I'm sure we'll get tons of 'Survivalism: New Vegas' scenarios when the game comes out, as 'Survivalism' is a huge thing in the Fallout universe.

emtknz says: There probably won't be a call back or sequel to New Vegas. I don't think players want another Fallout game where they aren't a guest in their own home town. They may release a small DLC where they bring in a guest into a new town or where a new player joins in a different era. There could even be expansions where you play as the new setting and don't have the characters carry over. But at this point there doesn't seem to be much interest in that. If this is an 'extra DLC' that will only be $10 or something less than that, which I think it will be, I

A: The folder with your.exe file is nothing more than a kind of index listing, such as WinRAR does. It is not the executable itself, as it could not be otherwise.

Q: Refresh page using jquery in asp.net c# i have a button on asp.net. This button needs to refresh the page after click but its not working.

function btnHeader_Click(sender, e) { //document.location.href="..." }
A: You're going to need to use javascript to trigger a server side post for this. In your page_load function, if you're using a button or linkbutton, use a javascript onclick event Onclick="MyButton.Attributes.Add('onclick', 'btn.Click()')" Function: function btn.Click() { document.location.href =
The present invention relates to a communication apparatus, a communication method, and a computer-readable medium. In a communication system, there is an error-detection protocol between a transmitter and a receiver. For example, there is a T-CRC (transmission control-crc) protocol defined in 6GPP (Third Generation Partnership Project) LTE (long term evolution), which is one of several standards for 3rd Generation Partnership Project (3GPP). A T-CRC represents a transmission and reception CRC (cyclic redundancy code) that is generated based on data transmitted and received through a communication channel. The transmitter performs the error-detection processing using the T 6d1f23a050
